

Collected Writings on Chinese Culture

TSUEN-HSUIN TSIEN

CONTENTS

- ix Preface by Edward L. Shaughnessy
- xiii Preface by Anthony C. Yu
- xvii Foreword by the Editorial Committee

ANCIENT DOCUMENTS AND ARTIFACTS

- 3 The Legacy of Early Chinese Records
- 17 Written on Bamboo and Silk
- 33 Strategies of Warring States
- 47 Sealing Clays of Han China
- 52 Implements and Tools for Writing

PAPER, INK, AND PRINTING

- 72 Raw Materials for Papermaking
- 91 Uses of Paper and Paper Products
- 115 Development of Inkmaking
- 129 Techniques of Woodblock Printing
- 145 Chinese Invention of Paper and Printing

CULTURAL EXCHANGE AND LIBRARIANSHIP

- 163 Western Impact on China Through Translation
- 191 Asian Studies in America
- 205 First Chinese-American Publication Exchange
- 219 East Asian Studies in American Libraries
- 236 How Chinese Rare Books Crossed the Pacific

BIOGRAPHIES OF EMINENT SCHOLARS

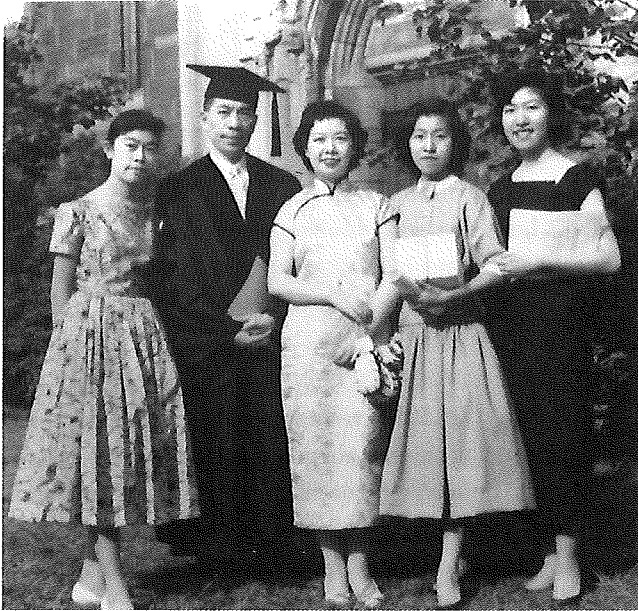

- 241 Master of Sinology: Herrlee G. Creel
- 247 Working with Joseph Needham
- 253 Tung Tso-pin in America
- 260 Yuan Tung-li and International Exchange
- 267 The Life and Work of K. T. Wu

MEMOIR OF A CENTENARIAN

- 273 Early Years in China
- 289 Arrival in Chicago
- 301 Work and Study in America
- 315 Teaching, Research, and Publications
- 333 Travel and Writing after Retirement

ESSAYS ABOUT THE AUTHOR

- 347 T. H. Tsien Library at Nanjing University
- 351 Life and Career
- 361 An Interview with T. H. Tsien
- 377 Publications
- 393 International Reviews of Publications

- 401 Illustrations
- 403 Bibliography
- 427 Index

T. H. TSIEN WITH FAMILY AFTER RECEIVING HIS PH.D. (1957)
(left to right): Mary Tsien Dunkel (Daughter), Tsuen-Hsuin Tsien,
Wen-ching Hsu (Wife), Gloria and Ginger Tsien (Daughters)